THE GUIDE TO THE WORLD'S LEADING IP LAW FIRMS AND PRACTITIONERS

PATENT

A young boy with brown hair and freckles is looking up at a red apple balanced on a branch. An arrow with blue and red fletching is stuck through the apple. The background is a lush green forest with sunlight filtering through the leaves.

INTRODUCTION

Welcome to the 2022 edition of IP STARS, the leading specialist guide to IP law firms and practitioners worldwide. IP STARS is an exclusive rankings publication: We do not rank all firms and individuals offering IP services, and participation in our research does not guarantee ranking. Please read the summary of our research methodology to learn more.

In this edition

In this handbook you will find the leading firms for patent protection and litigation work in more than 40 jurisdictions. We included the 2022 IP Stars list and Managing IP's Top 250 Women in IP list and the jurisdictions where we have ranked firms for their general IP practice. There were ranking changes this year, including firms and practitioners that were ranked for the first time.

More content online

Readers will find more rankings, including firm rankings for other practice areas, and editorial content on ipstars.com. For example, we have rankings for the 50 US states and the District of Columbia and profiles of some of the ranked firms and practitioners. The 2022 Corporate IP Stars list and Rising Stars list will be released in September.

The research for the 2023 edition of IP STARS will start in September 2022. Please visit our website to read about the research and our results publication timetable. You can get the latest IP developments and firm news by signing up to receive our newsletter and following us on Twitter (@IP_STARS) and LinkedIn.

As the legal landscape and business environment for IP continue to evolve, we hope that IP STARS can guide those looking for experienced IP advisers in a crowded or unfamiliar market.

Congratulations to all the ranked firms and practitioners.

RESEARCH METHODOLOGY

The research for the IP STARS rankings is conducted rigorously and impartially by Managing IP's team of research analysts in London, New York, and Hong Kong. Each year, we request information from thousands of firms, IP practitioners and their clients through interviews, email, and online surveys.

Firm rankings

Before compiling the rankings, our analysts also conducted their own independent research, including an analysis of publicly available information (such as court or IP office data) and existing data we have about firms and their practitioners. The aspects assessed for the firm rankings include expertise, workload, market reputation and record, outcomes achieved for clients, and unique strengths in each practice area. Judgements about which firms to include in the rankings, and which tier and practice area they should be in, take account of all this information.

The prosecution ranking takes account of pre- and post-registration work, including office proceedings and portfolio management advice. The contentious ranking covers all related disputes and enforcement work in and outside the courts (please note that the contentious ranking does not include IP office disputes). In some jurisdictions, we ranked firms for their general IP practice.

Practitioner rankings

The individuals we normally select as IP Stars are senior practitioners, especially partners, who are integral to the success and reputation of their firms. The Managing IP's Top 250 Women in IP list recognises some of the senior female IP Stars in private practice who have performed exceptionally for their clients and firms in the past year.

The 2022 rankings are based on information available at the time the core research was completed (February 2022). Except for name changes, any subsequent developments or information that could influence our rankings will be considered during the research for the next edition.

Our research analysts regularly monitor firms and their practitioners throughout the year and, therefore, Managing IP reserves the right to change any ranking and/or remove a firm or individual from our website at any time.

For the avoidance of doubt, the ranking tables do not suggest or indicate that the expertise or services of the listed firms are limited to the practice area in question. Managing IP does not recommend or endorse any firm or practitioner for IP work. The rankings are subject to change each year. Please read the terms of use concerning our content on ipstars.com.

The IP STARS rankings are not influenced by any commercial relationship, including advertising, with Managing IP or IP STARS. There is no fee to pay to participate in our research. No firm can pay to be included or to influence the results.

Please visit our website to read more about our methodology and practice areas. If you have questions or feedback, please write to us at research@managingip.com.

About IP STARS

Assessing the Malaysian IP landscape

Jason Cheah and Alvin Boey of Henry Goh & Co discuss the Patents (Amendment) Act and Regulations 2022 and updates to the industrial designs practice.

Malaysia continues to make strides towards the harmonisation of its intellectual property (IP) system with the rest of the world. After acceding to the Madrid Protocol System in September 2019, on March 31 2022 Malaysia acceded to the Budapest Treaty and the Marrakesh Treaty. It is expected that Malaysia will accede to the Hague Agreement in the near future.

IP is clearly of great national importance and continues to be an area with growth potential.

The Intellectual Property Corporation of Malaysia (MyIPO) oversees and administers the Malaysian IP system.

In line with the gradual recovery consistent with the global economy beginning to regain its footing in 2021, the number of Malaysian patent applications filed has seen a general improvement to near pre-pandemic levels. Although fewer Malaysian patents were granted during the same year, the numbers continue to remain high.

Due to the global pandemic, 2020 saw an overall dip in the filing of Malaysian industrial design applications. It is encouraging to observe that in 2021, the national design filings have rebounded, and this upward trend will likely continue as the global economy slowly enters into the post-pandemic recovery stage.

Patents (Amendment) Act and Regulations 2022

2021 certainly ended with a bang where IP legislation in Malaysia is concerned, with the long-awaited Patents Amendment Bill 2021 being tabled, read and passed by parliament on December 22 2021. Royal assent was granted on March 4 2022, paving the way for the Malaysian Patents (Amendment) Act 2022 to come into force on March 18 2022.

Introductions

The Patents (Amendment) Act 2022 introduced the following provisions:

Application and registration statistics

Patent

Year	Applications	Registrations
2017	7,278	5,127
2018	7,493	4,382
2019	7,743	4,213
2020	7,015	8,503
2021	7,709	7,062

Industrial design

Year	Applications	Registrations
2017	1,814	1,379
2018	1,845	1,475
2019	1,904	1,238
2020	1,701	1,266
2021	1,739	965

Provisions relating to the Budapest Treaty

Provisions have been introduced for compliance with the Budapest Treaty on the international recognition of the deposit of microorganisms for the purposes of the patent procedure. Initially deferred, the enforcement of this provision on June 30 2022 eliminates the requirement to separately deposit microorganisms in each country where patent protection is being sought.

The restoration of right of priority

An applicant may now request for the restoration of right of priority on the grounds that the failure to act was unintentional. This new provision applies to both direct national applications under the Paris Convention and to national phase applications derived from the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT).

For a direct national application, a request for the restoration of the right of priority must be filed within two months from the expiry of the priority term. In the case of a PCT-derived national phase application, the deadline for restoration is one month from the expiry of the 30-month deadline for national phase entry term or from the filing of a request for early processing.

Sequence listing as a minimum filing date requirement

A sequence listing will be a minimum filing date requirement and must be submitted in prescribed digital formats. For manually submitted applications, the sequence listing must be submitted in a physical computer storage device.

Publication of patent applications for direct national applications

The formal publication of a Malaysian patent application 18 months from the earliest priority date has been introduced for the first

Jason Cheah

Jason Cheah graduated in 1993 with an honours degree in electronic and electrical engineering from the Queen's University of Belfast, Northern Ireland. He is a registered Malaysian patent, industrial design and trademark agent.

Jason joined Henry Goh in 2002 and has served as a Manager in Patent Department since 2005. As one of the senior Managers in Patent Department, he oversees the Department's Malaysian patent and industrial design prosecution work to ensure that the Department's best practices and standards are adhered to and are in-step with the Malaysian IP Office's latest practice.

Jason has been recognized for his technical expertise as a recommended individual for patent prosecution in Malaysia by IAM Patent 1000. He is a member of the Asian Patent Attorneys Association (APAA).

time. This only applies to direct national patent applications and not to PCT-derived national phase applications. The option to request early publication is available.

Third-party observations

There is a formal provision for the submission of third-party observations for Malaysian patent applications. Any third party may submit prior art together with observations on patentability (novelty and inventive step only) to MyIPO.

For a direct national application, third-party observations may be submitted within three months of publication. In the case of a PCT-derived national phase application, the deadline for submission is three months from national phase entry if national phase entry occurs after the PCT

Alvin Boey

Alvin Boey is a registered Malaysian patent agent, trademark and industrial design agent since 2008. As a Manager (Prosecution) in the Patent Department, he plays a key role in managing overseas prosecution (excluding Brunei) as well as overseeing the Malaysian industrial designs portfolio. Alvin's experience as a mechanical engineer has provided invaluable technical knowledge in assisting clients in their IP needs related specifically to mechanical inventions.

In addition to his extensive prosecution work, Alvin has conducted numerous freedom-to-operate searches and provided infringement and validity opinions. He has appeared before the Kuala Lumpur High Court as an expert witness.

application is published, or three months from the international publication date if national phase entry occurs before the PCT application is published.

Patents as a security interest

A Malaysian patent may be the subject of a security interest and recognised in the same way as other personal or moveable property. Any of these transactions may be recorded in the patent register.

Amendments

Considerable changes have also been made to the following existing provisions:

Written Permission for Foreign Filing

Malaysian patent law has always required a person resident in Malaysia to obtain written permission for filing a first patent application outside of Malaysia. A clarifying amendment has been made to ensure that this requirement formally applies to both an applicant and inventor(s) resident in Malaysia. A formal definition of 'resident' has also been introduced.

In addition to newly prescribed official forms and fees and an invention disclosure, an executed Power of Attorney must also be submitted with each request.

Changes to substantive examination request provisions

Previously applicable to both normal substantive examination (SE) and modified substantive examination (MSE), the option to defer is now restricted to requests for modified substantive examination. This deferral can only be granted on the basis that a prescribed corresponding foreign patent (from the EPO, USPTO, UK IPO, IP Australia, the JPO, or KIPO) has not yet been granted or is not available at the time of the deferral request.

In addition to the payment of an official fee, the request for deferral must include the details (country and application number) of the foreign patent(s) that are pending, which could form the basis of the MSE request.

Since the deferral of a normal substantive examination request is no longer possible, in the absence of a prescribed foreign patent that could facilitate a MSE request, the applicant will have no other option but to request a normal substantive examination by the regular deadline. Failure to do so will result in the automatic withdrawal of the application.

A request for normal substantive examination is no longer required to be accompanied by information and supporting documents relating to the prosecution of relevant corresponding patent applications filed under the PCT or with the EPO, USPTO, UK IPO, IP Australia, the JPO, or KIPO.

Voluntary amendments

The provision for voluntary amendments under the old Act has been removed. However, a clause that provides for amendments has been introduced that pertains to the power of the registrar to amend patent applications.

This allows an applicant to voluntarily request an amendment to the specification, either to correct an obvious error or mistake, or to make a substantive amendment to the description, claims, and/or abstract. Any such request must be accompanied by an official form and the payment of a prescribed official fee, and it will be subject to review and acceptance by the registrar.

Voluntary divisional applications and conversions of a patent application to a utility application

The regular deadline for filing any voluntary divisional application is three months from the mailing date of the first Examination Report and is now strictly not extendable.

The term for requesting the conversion of a patent to a utility innovation (or vice versa) has now been reduced from six months to three months from the mailing date of the Examination Report, and this deadline is also strictly not extendable.

Post-grant amendment

In addition to the correction of clerical errors or obvious mistakes, provisions have been introduced to enable post-grant substantive amendments of a patent coupled with a request for re-examination of the patent, either voluntarily by the patent owner or at the registrar's direction.

Reduced period for reinstatement of lapsed patent

The time limit for the reinstatement of a lapsed patent has been reduced from 2 years to 12 months from the date of publication of a notice of lapse in the IP Official Journal.

Compulsory licence

A new provision has been introduced allowing the registrar to grant a compulsory licence (notwithstanding that an exclusive licence contract has been entered into by the licensor and the licensee) and that protects the licensor from any action for breach of contract by the licensee resulting from the compulsory licence granted by the registrar.

Landmark provisions

The 2022 amendment has also introduced the following new landmark provisions. The enforcement of these has been deferred.

Public availability of prosecution documents

A provision has been introduced which, when enforced, will allow the public inspection of prosecution documents. This will include the examiner's search and examination reports, and communication between the applicant and registrar as well as all prior art (patent and non-patent literature) submitted or cited.

Post-grant opposition

Finally, provisions have been introduced allowing for Malaysian patents to be opposed before the registrar, where any interested person may, within a prescribed period from the date of the grant, commence opposition proceedings by filing a notice of opposition with the registrar.

Key takeaways

The enforcement of the amended regulations has resulted in the first increase in official fees for the majority of patent submissions since 2011. However, the increase in the official fees that came into force on March 18 2022 was not as high as originally indicated in MyIPO's May 2021 consultation paper on the Patents (Amendment) Act 2022.

The changes introduced by the Act herald a new age in Malaysian patent practice and represent a significant and evolutionary shift towards a highly developed patent system.

Industrial designs practice updates

For industrial designs, 2021 was a relatively quiet year with no legislative updates. The introduction of the revamped industrial designs module in MyIPO's electronic filing platform, IP Online, on February 1 2021 created a greater reliance on IP Online for all design submissions to MyIPO.

In early April 2022, MyIPO issued a consultation paper on proposed amendments to the Industrial Designs Act and Regulations, which were last amended in 2013. These proposed amendments signal Malaysia's expected accession to the Hague Agreement.

The Hague system provides a mechanism for registering industrial design in multiple countries by means of a single international application filed with the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organisation (WIPO).

Several key proposed amendments to the Industrial Designs Act and Regulations are briefly outlined below.

Proposed amendments to the Industrial Designs Act and Regulations

At present, industrial design is defined as features of shape, configuration, pattern or ornament applied to an article by an industrial process. In line with international practice, it is proposed that the definition for designs be broadened to include interior design, exterior design, non-physical design and complex products.

Additional requirements for determining registrability with the purpose of facilitating effective registration and enforceability of designs have also been proposed. However, there are currently no details on what these additional requirements could be.

A clarifying amendment has been proposed such that the priority date will no longer be used as the base date for calculating the 25-year term of protection and determination of the renewal deadline of a registered Malaysian designed, as per current practice. As per the amendment, the priority date will only be used for the purpose of search and examination, and the Malaysian filing date will instead be used as the base date for calculation of the protection and renewal terms.

Currently, all industrial design applications are only subject to formal examination. The consultation paper highlighted a proposal to introduce substantive examination for industrial design applications. At the same time, it has also been proposed to make it mandatory for applicants to appoint an industrial design agent to request substantive examination. Local applicants presently have the option to file and prosecute industrial design applications to registration without appointing an agent.

It has been proposed to introduce a provision for deferring publication in line with international practice. This will be a useful option for many applicants. Although there has been no indication on the deferred publication term in the consultation paper, it is noted that the industrial design application form in the revamped designs module in IP Online appears to indicate the possibility of a deferral of publication of up to 36 months from filing.

Finally, it has also been proposed that infringement of a registered industrial design be treated as a criminal offence.

The next 12 to 18 months look set to be exciting for the industrial design landscape in Malaysia as practitioners look forward to more details from MyIPO on the implementation of the proposed amendments outlined in the consultation paper.
